Finns Are Still For A Peace With Honor

Brave Forces Still Repulse The Foe On Two Fronts

HELSINKI, Feb. 1.—(P)—President Kallio in a solemn final session of the war diet repeated today Finland's offer to negotiate "an honorable peace" with Russia but said that Finland would not bend before "imperialistic aims."

"We are forced to destroy people innocent on this war, people we have no reason to hate as a nation," the president said.

"For this reason we regard this barbarous attack as senseless and are ready to negotiate an honorable peace."

The aged, white haired president, speaking with a firm voice, expressed Finland's thanks for the foreign aid and added:

"We sincerely hope the term humanitarian help may be able to cover civilian air defense and anti-aircraft equipment and that such help might be given us for protection of the population behind the front from an aggressor who uses the air force in a most inhuman manner against civilians."

Help Is Appreciated
Kallio mentioned particularly "our neighbor Sweden" who, he said, "has shown her identity of fate with us."

"... In addition to her bountiful material help, well-equipped volunteer forces have come from there to help us."

He reviewed the negotiations preceding the invasion of Finland by Soviet Russia and said Finland was ready to make "even heavy sacrifices to preserve the peace" but two weeks after the negotiations came to a standstill "the Soviet government unilaterally violated every agreement concluded with Finland and invaded our country."

The president praised the unanimity of the diet and government and said "a more harmonious page has surely never before been written in the history of the Finnish parliament."

"We who are primarily responsible before the nation and before history for the decisions we have made, as well as their consequences," he said, "have had an unshakable inner conviction that the heart of the people in defense"

To Appeal Ruling In A Tax Case

ALBANY, Mo., Feb. 1.—(P)—Judge Ellis Beavers today held the State Unemployment Compensation Act unconstitutional and invalid on two grounds. The commission indicated an immediate appeal to the supreme court.

Judge Beavers held the act unconstitutional on the ground it does not provide for uniform taxation on all classes; and because it is retroactive.

The judge held that the law put the tax in effect January 1, 1937 although not enacted until June 17, basing the tax in part on the number of employees used by an employer in 1936.

The case on which he ruled was one in which the State Unemployment Commission had sued Rufus H. Limpp, King City milk dealer, for $800, representing taxes for 1937, 1938 and 1939.

Limpp declined to pay the tax because he did not have eighth or more employees in any of these years, he said. He had eight employees in 1936.

At Jefferson City, unemployment Compensation Director Harry G. Walther, Jr., said Judge Beavers' ruling "does not mean that the general provisions of the law are in any way affected, and in view of the appeal taken by the commission cannot be considered as controlling until the supreme court passes upon the matter."

"The opinion does not in any way affect the law as applied to companies or persons having eight or more employees in 1937 or thereafter."

But Fifteen Days To Secure 1940 Tags

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 1.—(P)—You've got just 15 days to get your 1940 auto tag.

The Automobile License Department today set February 15 as the deadline for old tags. Motorists whose cars are not wearing the new white background tags after that date will be subject to arrest.

The state highwaymen will have charge of enforcing the delinquent tag regulation.

Social Security Chief In City

George I. Haworth, state administrator of the Social Security Commission of Missouri, will arrive in Sedalia from his headquarters in Jefferson City, late this evening. Tonight he will meet with Pettis County's Social Security Commission, to discuss the future administrative program in the county.

Mr. Haworth, upon his arrival in Sedalia, will go to the Social Security headquarters to meet with the staff in the county office.

At 6:30 o'clock he will meet with the commission, Charles A. Wisdom, Green Ridge, chairman, Chas. O. Botz, Sedalia, B. F. Parker, La Monte, and James Stephens, Beaman. With them also will be Miss Margaret A. Roberts, Warrensburg, district supervisor, and Miss Roseanne Dugan, secretary-director of the local commission.

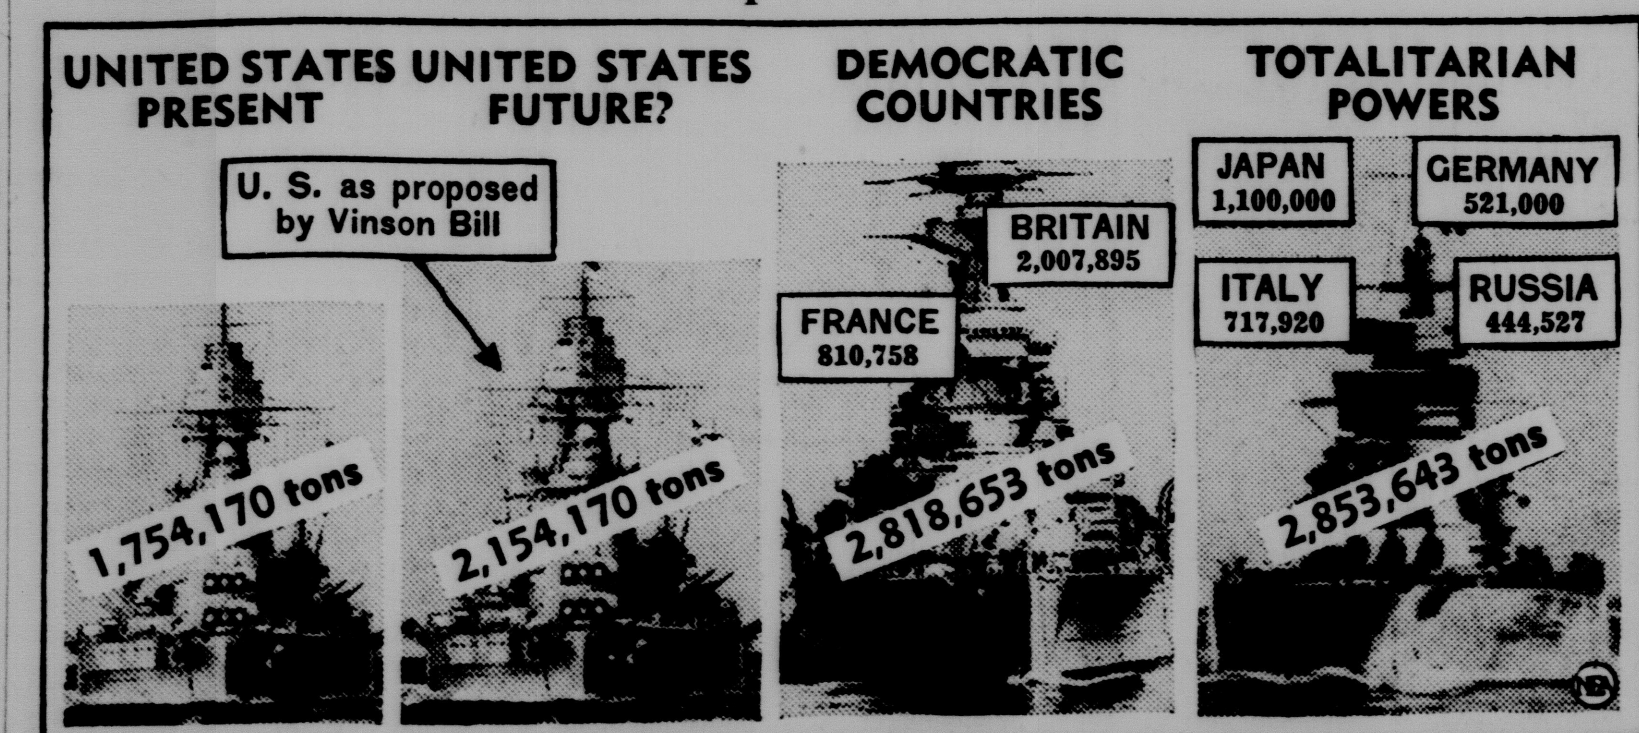

Dairy School Is Held Here

Thirty-five Pettis county dairymen are today attending a dairy school, conducted by M. J. Regan, extension dairyman from the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. The meeting is held in the Farm Bureau office, and they are discussing principally feeding.

The second of the series will be held at the same place, February 12, A. F. Stevens, extension dairyman to discuss breeding problems and the third meeting, March 4, will be led by Dr. A. W. Uren, extension veterinarian, who will discuss disease.

Following the trial there was a dance for the Lions and their wives.

Clothing For Needy Boys-Girls Provided

P-T Council Gives Aid By Cooperation Of Sewing Room

Through the cooperation of a number of persons the Parent-Teacher Council of Sedalia has succeeded in giving garments to between sixty and seventy children, boys and girls whose families may not have been on relief, but who needed clothing badly. In some cases the children could not have otherwise attended school.

It was some weeks ago that Miss Bettye Field, school nurse, went to Mrs. C. E. Van Horn, president of the Parent-Teacher Council and enlisted the aid of her organization. She reported many children boys and girls not on relief, but who were really suffering from the need of clothes. Mrs. Van Horn sent out an appeal for discarded garments. The response was splendid.

Garments Remade
She secured permission from the WPA headquarters in Kansas City to utilize the women of the WPA sewing room in Sedalia with the result that the garments that did not fit the children were remade, cleaned and made suitable for others. The women of the sewing room devoted their time to this work, and many dresses, coats, and other garments were mended or cut down to fit certain persons.

Not only were there garments that had been worn donated, but in at least two cases Mrs. Van Horn received calls from persons telling her to go to certain stores and buy four or five coats for boys or girls, a donation of $25 made it possible to buy galoshes and shoes, other donations were also used judiciously.

Cecil Glenn, truant officer, knowing of the movement, went to Mrs. Van Horn with the names of some children who were out of school because of lack of clothing. These children were fitted out and returned to their classes.

Mrs. Van Horn certainly deserves great credit for her leadership in this work, and she is very appreciative of the cooperation she has received. It required much time and work, but the women interested, and Mrs. Van Horn in particular, believe the results show it was worth while.

Lions Club Has Installation

At a banquet-meeting of the Lions club Wednesday night at St. Francis Hotel, Leo Hayob of Sweet Springs, zone chairman, gave a short address and installed 25 new members who were taken in recently.

A mock trial was held after the banquet with Vivian Kindred, the defendant, charged with mismanagement in the membership campaign.

A membership team headed by Duane Ewing defeated a team led by Dan M. Carr, Jr., by three new members.

Adolph Glenn acted as prosecuting attorney, Glen Neely as defense attorney, T. O. Herrick as sheriff, Ernest Martin as clerk and Dan Carr as the plaintiff, with Judge Jacob E. Smith presiding.

Kindred entered a plea of not guilty but was found guilty and sentenced to report to his wife every morning before breakfast and to double his efforts for the club.

Following the trial there was a dance for the Lions and their wives.

May Include Women In Club

Extemporaneous Talks Given To Speakers' Group

The Sedalia Speakers club, operating as the speakers bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, is considering changing its constitution to admit women to the membership.

The change was proposed at a meeting Wednesday night in the C. of C. offices because a number of women employers and employees have asked to join since the club's recent affiliation with the Chamber of Commerce.

Phillip Kain, president of the Speakers club, said that the discussion would be continued at the next meeting.

A letter from Dale Carnegie, endorsing the organization and congratulating it on "your fine objectives" was read.

Extemporaneous talks were given and Frank Hanigan acted as criticism chairman. H. G. Mueller was admitted as a new member.

Speakers at the meeting next Wednesday will be J. L. Curry and Hanigan. L. J. Brown will discuss the fifth chapter of Dale Carnegie's public speaking text. Mr. Carnegie will speak in Sedalia on March 12.

Talk On Census To Kiwanians

The importance of the business and manufacturers' census in addition to the compilation of the population figures in 1940, was stressed in a talk by Attorney William F. Brown, district manager, Bureau of the Census, before the Sedalia Kiwanis club meeting in Bothwell hotel this noon.

Also on the program was Bruce E. Lambert, area manager, of Springfield, who elaborated on the various phases on census work.

The speakers were introduced by John Cameron, program chairman.

Ben Robinson announced details of the plans governing an attendance contest with the Rotary club for an eight weeks period beginning with the meeting today.

A short talk was made by Kiwanis lieutenant governor Charles Gillespie, of Jefferson City.

Announcement was made of the appointment by the district governor of Lee Shannon of the Sedalia club, to serve as a member of the Mo-Kan-Ark district committee on Inter Club Relations.

Guests present today included H. A. Starks, and Walter Bohling, of Jefferson City, and the Rev. L. M. Starkey.

George Thurn, demonstrator of the Democrat-Capital cooking school, Wednesday afternoon at Liberty theatre for the second session. Schools will be held again this afternoon and Friday afternoon, both beginning at 2 o'clock.

In the audience were experienced housewives and many young girls, all learning more about the fine art of cooking. Maids from a number of homes also have been attending and their employers report they come back with enthusiastic new ideas about preparing foods and with helpful suggestions for menus.

Informal Explanations
Mrs. Thurn gives her explanations in a friendly, informal way as she goes about her work on the stage. During the afternoon she answers questions about pie crusts, "falling" cakes and too-dry meatballs, or any other perplexing problems that may be troubling those in the audience. These culinary questions may be written on blanks provided on the daily program sheets.

While the foods were cooking yesterday, Mrs. Thurn gave laun-

First Monthly Benefits Paid

Estimated Checks Go To 912,000 During Year

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(P)—About 3,700 workers and their dependents scattered across the country collected today the first monthly benefits on federal old age insurance.

The postman's ring, bringing the social security check, will become a familiar routine on the first of every month in thousands of homes. The recipients are wage earners of 65 or over who have retired, along with their wives, widows, children or dependent parents.

Social security checks have been sent out before as lump sum settlements to estates of deceased workers or to those who were born too soon to qualify for monthly benefits under the original act.

The monthly checks range as high as $42 for married couples who are 65 or over, and somewhat less for single workers. The prospective average is $39 for married couples and $26 for unmarried workers. A wife and children are entitled to supplement benefits.

First Claims Not Large

The first batch of claims certified to the treasury for payment was not large in view of the Social Security Board estimate that benefits would be distributed this year to 912,000 workers.

The old age insurance system has enrolled more than 47,000,000 workers, and the volume of distribution is expected to increase each month.

Out of 14,000 claims approved for payment in January most were held up until the government deducted the amount once remitted as a lump sum settlement. These beneficiaries belong to the group regarded as too old to accumulate the necessary wage credit in the early years of the system to qualify for monthly retirement annuity. They were paid off with lump sums in 1937 and 1938, but the changes in the law last summer gave them the chance to qualify for monthly benefits.

Among the claims filed were listed those of 2,717 wives, 1,446 children, six widows over 65, 174 younger widows, two dependent parents and 341 lump sum death claims.

In most cases, only death or a return to work on a job covered by the law will interrupt the flow of checks to retired wage earners. Widows who remarry will forfeit the payments.

Settlement In Damage Suit

A damage suite, filed in the circuit court today by Mrs. Catherine Leona Glover, widow of the late George H. Glover, against Mrs. Daisy McGowan, wife of Arthur McGowan, was settled and the case closed almost immediately after filing.

Mrs. Glover asked for $10,000, alleging that amount was due for damages, following the death of her husband, December 20, from injuries suffered November 15, when he was struck by a car driven by Mrs. McGowan.

The petition stated that Mr. Glover was walking south on Kentucky avenue, at Broadway, and Mrs. McGowan was driving east on Broadway. It was about 9:15 o'clock at night.

The stipulation filed did not state the amount for which the case was settled.

Fred M. Ross represented Mrs. Glover and R. S. McKenzie, of Jefferson City, Mrs. McGowan and an insurance company.

Contentend Reds In Scores Of Illegal Acts

Japanese Not Relaxing Watch Along Border

BY RELAMN MORIN
TOKYO, Feb. 1.—(P)— War Minister General Shunroku Hata declared today that Soviet Russia had committed "scores of illegal acts" after conclusion of the truce on the Manchoukuo Outer Mongolia border and that Japan's army "therefore, is not relaxing its watch."

General Hata made the statement in an address to the opening session of the Diet (Parliament), following the foreign policy report of Hachiro Arita, foreign minister, who expressed Japan's hope of putting her trade relations with the United States back on a treaty basis.

Hata said illegal Russian acts had occurred on borders other than the disputed frontier between Manchoukuo and Outer Mongolia.

The foreign office, meanwhile, issued a brief communique on the breakdown of Russian-Japanese negotiations at Harbin, Manchoukuo, reporting that the mixed boundary commission had decided to adjourn and leave the question of demarcation "to be decided at a later date." A total of 16 meetings had left the conferees still in disagreement.

British Ambassador Sir Robert Leslie Craigie was given Japan's reply to the British note of January 27 answering the Japanese protest against seizure of 21 Germans from the Japanese liner Asama Maru.

A foreign office statement said both notes would be published when the British had had time to consider. Sir Robert received the Japanese note from Masayuki Tani, vice-minister of foreign affairs, during a two-hour conference in which discussions of "political and legal" aspects of the case were continued. An eighth meeting was scheduled for Friday.

Canvass Relations

Arita's address, the annual foreign minister's report at the opening session of the Diet (parliament), canvassed the whole range of Japan's international relations.

Traffic Made Less Difficult

Sedalians, coming downtown early this morning, found that the city's street department had spent most of the night working on the streets, particularly those in the downtown district, and made driving and parking much easier.

After the recent storm, the snow that fell in the streets—and there was plenty of it—was graded back to the curbing to clear the center. The weather was so cold that it froze and there were piles of ice along the curb line. With the warmer weather it began to melt some, and Wednesday night the city employees were able to tear down those piles on the sides of the streets and distribute the snow over the entire thoroughfare, permitting it to melt more quickly, and making traffic less difficult.

Many persons, some in the downtown district, failed to clean the snow and ice off their side walks. This is required by a city ordinance and the city authorities notified a number of persons of this ordinance, with the result that walks were cleaned.

Eccles Stays On Reserve Board

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(P)—President Roosevelt nominated Marriner S. Eccles, present chair of the Federal Reserve Board, today for four more years membership on the board.

The appointment for that period was made possible by an intricate maneuver in which Chester C. Davis, a board member, resigned after half his eight years on the board had expired. That left an unexpired four years which had to be filled and Eccles was given the appointment, Davis, in turn, then was given a reappointment for a 14-year term starting today.

Friends have said they expected Eccles to continue with the reserve board only during the Roosevelt administration.

Work For 1933 From Local Job System Office

Benefits Under Insurance Plan Paid Here $68,024

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 1.—(P)—Missouri's job insurance system paid $5,464,683 in unemployment benefits and its employment service found jobs for 80,672 idle workers in 1939.

The average weekly benefit check was for $8.31, the unemployment compensation commission's year-end tabulation showed. "These benefit checks, besides providing an income for unemployed persons who might otherwise have none, also helped stabilize local industries by maintaining the jobless workers' buying power," Commission Chairman Andrew J. Murphy, Sr., said. "In doing this, unemployment insurance acted as a safeguard for industry against the vicious circle of business slowdown, retrenchment, and greater unemployment."

Big Fund Accumulates

The benefit payments during the program's first year of full operation, however, were only about a third of the payroll taxes collected to finance it. Missouri's employees who foot the entire bill—poured $17,380,752 into the benefit fund which now totals more than $50,000,000, nearly 10 times the amount of one year's payment to workers.

All but 13,650 of the 1939 job placements were in private industry. Of the 67,022 given private employment, 37,160 were men and 29,862 were women.

The year's totals of benefit payments and job placements by local officers included:

Cape Girardeau, $42,387 benefits and 1,096 jobs; Columbia $106,289 and 2,114; Hannibal $58,183 and 1,484; Jefferson City $96,392 and 1,470; Joplin $106,933 and 2,402; Kansas City $1,116,420 and 10,824; Maryville $13,426 and 1,351; Moberly $35,003 and 644; Nevada $29,484 and 1,094; Poplar Bluff $46,997 and 335; St. Joseph $156,137 and 1,807; St. Louis $2,591,213 and 26,210; Sedalia $68,024 and 1,933; Springfield $128,066 and 4,263; and Trenton, $33,117 and 1,005.

Open Letter To The World

To Whom It May Concern:
There may be some fine, young American boys joining the Finns along the Manchester Line any one of these days. A few are already there. They're mostly strong fellows, with adventure in their souls or ideologies in their hearts.

The President of the United States has said it's all right for them to be there. They won't lose their citizenship rights, as long as they don't take any oaths of allegiance to foreign governments. When they come home—IF they come home—they can vote and run for office and do all the things the rest of us are doing. That is, unless their legs have been blown off or their shell-wracked minds have become useless.

During the Spanish civil war lots of fellows went over to do their bit for Democracy and Joe Stalin, and nothing but a lot of trouble and disillusionment came of it. Lots of the youngsters are still over there—buried beneath Spanish soil. Some who were injured came back and wanted federal compensation. Most of the survivors have been trying to figure out what it was all about, ever since Comrad Stalin reached over and clasped the hand of Adolf Hitler.

So we want to make it clear, before this thing goes too far, that the United States is not responsible for anything its boys may do on European battlefields. We don't want them to get killed; but if they do, remember, we didn't send them. It was their own idea.

It isn't that we don't like the Finns. We do, and we want them to win. Practically everyone over here is cheering for them. We've even sent them money that our people have dug out of their own pockets, and there's some talk of extending government credit. We think the Russian invasion of Finland is one of the most unjustifiable international atrocities.

But that's as far as we're willing to go. We're not sending troops over to Europe. If anyone tries to invade American soil, we'll be ready for them. But we'll wait right here until they come. We don't intend to go over after them.

About those boys, the fellows who are going to fight for Finland: They're Americans, yes, but they don't represent us. Please remember that. No one represents us, on any battlefield. We're not in any war. We have no intention of becoming involved. If American volunteers get into trouble, we can't help them. We're sorry, but that's the way it's got to be.

We could use those boys right here at home. They're strong, capable, full of spirit. But if they don't want to stay, we suppose that's their choice. They're free, white, and some of them are over 21. They may go if they like, but remember this—

They are strictly on their own.

The carburetor bowl of an automobile should be removed every 5000 miles and cleaned of all accumulated dirt.

When mined, both iron and aluminum are combined with other metals and oxygen.

There is only one point in the United States where four states touch. This is at the Arizona-Colorado-New Mexico-Utah border point.

Tolerance Of Opinion Is Vital To Sedalia's Growth

One of the tragedies of life, as we grow older, is a tendency to lose freshness of mind, to let our convictions become so hardened that there is nothing left for adaptability. This applies to the really important opinions we have and decisions we must make from time to time; but isn't it true that the revelation of this situation is more apparent in the routines we follow, the smaller work-day problems that confront us?

Youth with a new idea advances on maturity for approval. Wisdom's temptation is to be negative and if persisted in loses its right to exalted station. Wisdom is advisory and directional rather than creative. Homer aptly expresses it in this fashion: "The mark of wisdom is to read aright the present, and to march with the occasion."

Just where the cleavage point is between youth, with its fresh ideas, and wisdom cannot be determined. The types are with us in Sedalia and every other community. Without tolerance of opinion they constitute a hazard to community progress. Within the history of Sedalia perhaps no more appropriate solution to this problem has been developed than the creation of the cosmopolitan Round Table Council. So far it has contested with problems of community enterprise ranging from bond issues to pancake days.

We have in mind a few older executives who are never intolerant of new ideas. Leadership comes to them naturally. As it is with individuals, so it is with the group. If this philosophy is allowed to have play in the Round Table Council its success will be merited and the community cheered; it will not be discouraged by defeats. There are many instrumentalities at hand to convert defeats into foundations on which to build.

According to surveys, men are more apt to talk in their sleep, but women are more given to dreaming.

Many persons suffering from persistent or too frequent nose bleeding have been relieved by injections of moccasin snake venom in tests.

The largest man-made hole in the world is a copper mine at Bingham Canyon, Utah, which is nearly a square mile in area. More than 232,000,000 cubic yards of material have been taken from the mine.

Looking Backward

Forty Years Ago
Judge Henry Lamm of Sedalia, one of the ablest of Missouri's lawyers and a leader at the Pettis county bar, was in the city yesterday on legal business, says the St. Joseph Herald. Judge Lamm is an eloquent orator and is always in demand by the Republicans when a campaign is in progress.

Joseph B. Van Noy, formerly of this city, and Mrs. Van Noy visited in Sedalia last evening on their way to their home in Evansville, Ind., after a 20-day visit in Missouri.

Frank B. Moore, a former Sedalian, who is now editor of the St. Joseph Morning Herald, had an exceedingly clever poem in yesterday's St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The title was "Britannia's Misfortune," suggested by a cartoon thus entitled in last Sunday's Globe-Democrat.

E. C. Kahrs who has been employed as salesman for the implement company of which J. M. Planck is manager, will now travel for the Plano Harvester company.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON — That visit which Representative Melvin J. Maas, of Minnesota, made to the white house the other day was not a social call.

The hard-hitting world war flyer is ranking Republican member of the house naval affairs committee, and the clue to his talk with Roosevelt in that bill for drastic reorganization of the navy which has been gathering cobwebs in the committee.

Roosevelt favors the measure and so does Maas—himself an old foe of bureaucrats and red tape. But naval brasshats and certain Democratic bigwigs on the committee do not.

The brasshats want the bill shelved on the plea that the navy will reform itself. And the Democratic members of the committee are secretly playing ball with them by stalling action on the legislation. This is directly counter to the President's ideas. He wants a vigorous broom applied to the obsolete and inefficient navy system, and believes the only way it can be done is by congressional act.

That's why he summoned Maas—to ask him to get behind the reorganization measure and to force action on it.

"That's right down my alley, Mr. President," responded Maas. "I'm for a sweeping clean-up and modernization of the navy, and I'll go down the line with you 100 per cent on that proposition. If you'll back me up, I'm sure we can get results."

Roosevelt assured Maas of his full support and said he would confer with him again soon.

Painting Roosevelt
A Cuban artist sat in a white house anteroom, waiting for his appointment to see the president. He was animated and eager. The president was to sit for a portrait, and the portrait would be placed in the senate chamber in Havana. It was the opportunity of a lifetime.

Across the room sat another man. He too was waiting eagerly. Presently General Watson, presidential secretary, entered the room. "All right," he said, "are you gentlemen ready? Now which one is the Cuban?"

Dr. Esteban Valderrama rose. Watson greeted him and turned to the other man. "And you are Dr. . . . ?" Up rose Dr. Oskar Stoessel of Vienna, presenting his card.

"All right," said Watson, "now you gentlemen can have an hour with the president. He'll be working at his desk, and you mustn't ask any questions. Just go ahead with your drawing, and make the most of it."

The two men stared at each other. Each had been given an appointment separately, each had supposed he would be alone with the president.

"What is your medium?" said Stoessel to Valderrama.

"I work in oil," said the Cuban. "And you?"

"Etching," said the Viennese. "Come along," interposed Watson. "The president is ready."

So the two artists shook hands, picked up their portfolios, and marched into the president's office together.

McNutt "Purists"
Certain Indiana followers of presidential aspirant Paul McNutt have quietly launched a drive to clean up the famous Two Per Cent Club, on the theory that a voluntary purge would be a lot happier than one made by the law.

Leader of the "purists" is Democratic State Chairman Fred Bays, hustling ex-chief of Sullivan county. Bays was made State Chairman last year after Attorney General Omer S. Jackson, close pal of bulky National Committeeman Frank McHale, was eased out under heavy pressure from the congressional delegation.

Since then Bays and Clarence U. Gramelspacher, Jasper manufacturer who replaced "Bo" Elder, another McHale intimate, as treasurer of the club, have been trying to wield the broom, but with indifferent results—due to two factors.

One was the serious illness of Wayne Coy, confidential secretary to McNutt and a vigorous "purist." The other was the undercover obstruction of Dick Heller, executive (patronage) secretary of Governor Townsend. Heller, in a McHaleite, and with Coy out of the picture saw to it that the reformers did not get the ear of McNutt and Townsend.

The recent disclosure of federal income tax investigation has given new life to the "purists" campaign, and they are rallying their forces for a big showdown. One of their first demands is the removal of Heller as patronage dispenser.

NOTE: Although John L. Lewis blasted McNutt, Governor Townsend was informally invited to address the miners' convention. He declined on the plea that he was too busy with state affairs.

Trick Bombshell
SEC Chairman Jerry Frank caused a near riot among his utility listeners with one part of his speech before the American Management Association in New York.

He was explaining calmly that the SEC merely enforced laws enacted by congress, when suddenly he launched a scathing castigation of utility holding companies and their manipulators. "Creatures of legal ingenuity," "despoilers," "blood-suckers" and similar searing terms spluttered from his lips.

"What was needed," he declared, "was to take from the backs of the clean, honestly operated operating companies of this country these leeches and bloodsucking holding companies, who performed no services but who were milking to death the local operating companies under their control, and were milking those who had invested their hard-earned money in the securities of these local operating companies."

Amid a tense silence that could have been cut with a knife, Chairman Frank paused, looked around at the angry utility mo-

Author of "How To Win Friends And Influence People"

In 1909 a young bookkeeper for a garage company in Kansas City, Mo., was getting $15 a week. There was no chance, seemingly, for him to advance. I say "seemingly" because he had grit and determination—and a $5 bill.

He decided he would see what he could do on the side while continuing work for the garage company. The young bookkeeper's name was George Pepperrine.

The automobile business was a gurgling infant. It had barely found its toes. Cars were shot out from the factory half-equipped. (Remember it was 1909.) The owner had to buy so-called "extra parts." Many of the cars did not even have tops; windshields. No bumpers. Spare tires were unheard of. The purchaser of a new car had to buy an oil-burning lamp to hang on his car for a headlight. It seems incredible now, but thus it was in those days.

The only business George Pepperrine knew anything about was the automobile business, so he decided to stick to it. These are the steps he took.

He wrote to the manufacturers

guls. Then with a broad smile he said:

"Gentlemen, I've been plagiarizing. What I just read you is not my own. I lifted it from a speech Congressman Samuel Raybourn (Democratic floor leader) made in the house in support of the utility holding company act on June 27, 1935."

Merry-Go-Round

Glenn Frank's Republican Platform Committee will supplement its report with further reports from six of its nine members that the report is not a "platform" but a survey of conditions and problems for use as a platform by the nation convention . . . One interesting news item that did not come out of the recent Madison, Wis., meeting of the liberal American Students Congress was that one student delegate was a granddaughter of the late, ultra-conservative Justice Pierce Butler. She was Miss Mary Avaline Butler, attending the convention as the representative of Sarah Lawrence College, fashionable girls' school in Bronxville, N. Y.

of auto parts and got the right to sell his products. He also went to the wholesale houses and got quotations on parts, and got them to agree to supply parts, if he made any sales. Now he had the source of supply.

He then got up a small circular describing the parts he could sell. Now what to do with it? How was he going to get it into the hands of car owners?

At this time there was no registration of automobiles. If a man wanted a car, he got it, drove it, and no one said boo. George Pepperrine got an idea. He got out a circular letter and sent it to bankers in Missouri. He asked them as a personal favor to him if they would turn the letter over and write on the back of it names of people in their town who owned automobiles. This was a novelty to the small town bankers. They were proud of the number of people in their town who owned automobiles, and they wrote the names down and mailed the letter back with the postage Mr. Pepperrine had provided. As average town of 3,000 had about a dozen automobiles so it did not entail much work for the bankers.

The letters came whirling back. And now George Pepperrine had prospective customers. His next step was to go to a printer and tell him exactly what he was trying to do, and to get the printer to take a chance with him and print the circulars on credit. The first printer turned him down. Cash. Nothing but cash. The third printer he went to said he would take a chance. Well, has it paid that printer? I'll say it has.

I see my space is about up for today. This story is so extraordinary that I'll continue it tomorrow, and show you what George Pepperrine did with that $5 bill.

Ford Manager Dies In Wreck

CARTHAGE, Mo., Feb. 1.—(AP)—William L. Yule, Kansas City branch manager for the Ford Motor Co., was fatally injured in a collision late Wednesday. His head was crushed.

His auto and a trailer truck collided 11 miles east of here on highway 66. The auto skidded 75 feet and turned over, throwing Yule to the pavement.

The truck driver, Cecil Faucett, was not hurt.

Mrs. Yule and Walker Williams, assistant manager, left Kansas City by auto when informed Yule was dangerously injured in McCune-Brooks hospital. Yule died before they arrived.

Coroner A. N. Winchester did not decide immediately whether to hold an inquest.

SERIAL STORY

THE CAPTAIN'S DAUGHTER

BY HELEN WORDEN

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Mike Donovan arrived in New York, and Dan saw him. Mike goes to Lynda, tells her how happy her engagement to Dan has made him. Lynda is puzzled. Dan has not asked her. Mike plans a fund celebration of the event. Arriving home, his Chinese servant informs him "Meech Dan in jail."

CHAPTER VIII

MARIE LA PORTE's hand shook as she brushed her brown curls before the tiny mirror which hung in the alcove that served as her bedroom aboard the La Porte barge. She was miserably unhappy. The very thing she had been trying to avoid had happened, just because Dan Donovan had insisted on coming to the barge. A shadow crossed her window. Tommy was still outside. He might kill Dan.

The casual conversation between Dan and her father and mother sifted through the blue denim curtain.

"Yes," Dan was saying, "my folks like water too. Dad's idea of a holiday is to have nothing to do but sit on the after-deck of his houseboat, smoke his pipe and think and sometimes, just sit."

"Nanette, what is my pipe?" Bat asked his wife. Turning to Dan, he continued, "Your pop and I, we share tastes in common. I smoke and sit and think. Specially when we go to Canada summers."

"Yes," Mrs. La Porte passed his pipe—"that is my husband's idea of Heaven. Those long trips—they are monotonous. No life for women."

She tried to talk easily to this strange boy Marie had brought home. Her curiosity, ordinarily strong, had been deadened by the earlier experience of the evening. She still saw the fight between the truckmen and the barge people. Their shouts still rang in her ears. "I'm glad Marie has that job uptown, modelling," she said. "At least that gets her away part of the time."

Bat disagreed amiably. "This is a peaceful life. Eet ees my very existence," he protested. "Just like Marie, I was born and brought up on a canalboat. My father before me had hees boats."

Happily forgetting his black eye and bruises, he told of the quiet summers drifting along upstate canals beneath overhanging trees. "If the weather is good, the run lasts ten days. We haul grain, phosphate, lumber, anythings. The tugs, they take us up the Hudson to Albany, then through the locks to Canada. The people along the way have seen my daughter Marie grow up." His gaze rested affectionately on Marie as she entered the cabin. "They are my friends."

Marie sat down. "Pop's talking 'It's obvious you're going to have to choose between your collicking friends and a crew."

about the past. Trucking's cut in on the barge business now."

Even in her present anxious mood, she was certainly a most attractive girl. It was easy to see by Dan's expression that he thought so too.

"Yes," said Mrs. La Porte. "We're lucky if we have three hauls a summer, and tonight Bat's lost this phosphate cargo."

Bat scowled. "I'll make them pay for this."

Dan stared at him. "I don't want to be rude, but was that your guy your black eye?"

"There was a dreadful fight before you and Marie came," Mrs. La Porte answered. "I thought Bat would be murdered."

Dan moved his chair close to Marie. "Then you're really not safe down here?"

"It's just a war between the truckmen and the bargemen."

A shadow darkened a cabin window. "That's Tommy Ryan again, papa," Marie spoke nervously.

"Was he the guy that stopped us out on the dock?" broke in Dan. "Yes, and I wish to Heaven he would leave us alone."

Bat took his pipe out of his mouth and stared at Marie. He was relieved to hear her speak of Tommy in that tone.

"Then you don't want to marry that kid?"

"Did you think she did?" Dan's voice was desperate.

Bat looked at him, shrewdly. "Why should you care, my fellow?"

Mrs. La Porte raised a restraining hand. "Bat! Do be quiet."

Striking a match, he lit his pipe again. "My dear boy, Marie ees not going to marry Tommy Ryan or anyone else just now. But when she does, I intend that her husband shall be a bargeman, like myself."

A SHADOW again fell across the cabin window. Bat sprang to his feet. "That idiot! Does he think he can police my boat these ways?"

Dan reached for his hat and coat. "I'll settle that gazzook."

He was on deck before Marie reached the hatchway.

"Let them fight," said Bat contentedly. "Maybe they will demolish each other, and then you'll be free of these monkeys."

He had locked the hatchway and stuck the key in his pocket by the time Marie reached it.

"Oh, you're cruel," she shouted. "Let me out of here!" She beat her fists against Bat's broad chest.

"Have you gone mad, Marie? First you tell me that Tommy Ryan means nothing to you. Then you see heem give your father a black eye. You cannot possibly have use for heem after that."

"Now, you bring these strange boys, Dan what's hees-name in and I know you cannot have any attachment for him because you do not make hees acquaintance long enough. Yet you cry when he and Tommy fight. Eet is not any concern of ours."

Wiping her eyes, Marie walked toward her alcove. "They may be killing each other for all we know."

Mrs. La Porte ran to a window. "Bat," she pleaded. "Tommy might hurt that boy seriously. After all, Marie is only remembering that we should look out for him. He is a stranger."

SHE and her mother followed Bat to the dock.

"Oh, I knew it," she cried, as she caught sight of two men fighting on the pier. "Tommy's killing him!"

Bat made a futile attempt to separate the pair. "You leave me alone," gasped Tommy.

Dan's suit was torn, his collar ripped off and his face a mass of cuts. "That goes for me too," he yelled, connecting a left to Ryan's nose.

"Oh, it's too terrible," Marie screamed. "One is bound to kill the other."

Mrs. La Porte called that she was going to the barge for a bucket of hot water. "That will separate them," she cried.

The sudden focusing of a flashlight stopped their talk.

"What's all this?" a gruff voice demanded.

"Hello, Jerry," said Bat, as the policeman pocketed his light and made for the two boys. "What a time we have had thees evening."

"Who started this?" demanded Jerry McGuire.

"I did," Tommy paused.

"I did," Dan yelled.

They both fell to fighting again. "O. K." Jerry caught them by the arms. "Come along and tell the Judge about it."

Mrs. La Porte came running back with her pan of hot water. "Praise God they're all right! Let me wash their faces."

Jerry laughed. "They'll have plenty of time to do that in jail."

"You can't put Dan in jail," Marie said excitedly. "His father is—"

"The boy's been disturbin' the peace just the same as Tommy was. I don't care who his father is."

"Leave my father out of this," ordered Dan.

With a heavy heart, Marie watched the three disappear down the pier.

Society And Clubs

A "dreamy" romantic mood and, by contrast, a carnival spirit prevailed in the pleasing joint program presented by the Beulah Yancey Junior Music club and the Musical Moments club Wednesday night at the Heard Memorial clubhouse. The choral and instrumental program was especially arranged for presentation before the Helen G. Steele

Music club, the senior organization. The hall was darkened for the performance of the Musical Moments members with Miss Mary Frances Staley, the narrator, relating a story based on a "Dream Girl" theme that formed a verbal setting for the varied musical numbers. The selections were contiguous. Miss Lillian Fox was the accompanist. Mrs. Percy Metcalfe, the director of the club introduced Mrs. W. O. Wilson, president, who gave a paper on "Music in the Modern Mood," preceding the musical selections. Miss Marian Smith, organizer of the Beulah Yancey Junior Music club, told of its origin about 10 years ago and briefly reviewed the club's history. She introduced Miss Dorothy Thomas, this year's president, and Mrs. C. D. Demand who has been director of the club for a number of years. Miss Smith commented that many former "juniors" are now members of the Musical Moments group, an organization of business girls who are interested in music.

The junior club's program was presented in an informal manner with the girls arranged in small groups on the stage and with several sitting on the two grand pianos. About 25 of the members participated in the program. The carnival atmosphere was further carried out when the girls who were carrying baskets threw confetti over the audience. Miss Vivagene Wheeler was accompanist.

The members of both the entertaining clubs were dressed in evening gowns. Mrs. E. F. Yancey, president of the Helen G. Steele Music club, presided, and announced the coming concert of the Sedalia Symphony orchestra to be given next Wednesday night at the Smith-Cotton high school auditorium with Percy Grainger, noted pianist and composer, as guest artist.

Program For Hazel Hill PTA

The Hazel Hill Parent-Teacher Association met Friday night with the vice-president, Mrs. Gus Koelling, in charge. After a short business meeting several songs were sung by the group, and Rev. Earl Brown, of Houstonia, gave a very interesting talk.

After the program the study club had its meeting with Mrs. Frank Schouten in charge. Those taking part in the lesson were Mrs. E. Gregory, Mrs. E. Meiser, Mrs. Koelling and Rev. Brown. A general discussion followed. Refreshments were served by Earl Gregory, Mrs. Meiser and Mrs. Gus Koelling.

Sedalia Out For Revenge In Game Against Clinton

Tiger Cagers Meet Out-Of-Town Foe Tonight; Switzer May Not Play

The Clinton cagers will come to Sedalia tonight to play the Smith-Cotton Tigers. Clinton has been beaten only two times this season, once by its alumni and once by Nevada. They defeated the Tigers earlier in the season, 31 to 17, playing on their own court.

35 Veterans Not In Latest Major Leagues' 'Who's Who'

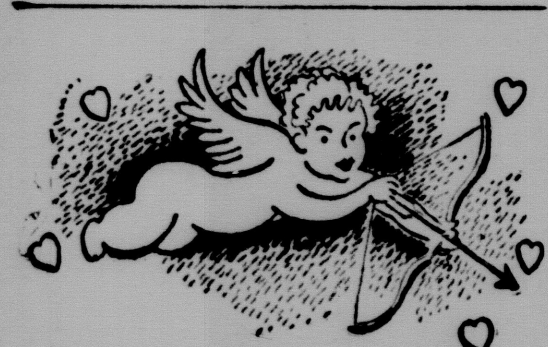

By WHITNEY MARTIN NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The silver anniversary edition of Who's Who in Baseball, the social register of the major leagues, is off the press, its poignant story told not by the names and figures on its pages, but the names and figures omitted.

Approximately 35 new names are included, which means approximately that number was dropped. That means a turnover of 35 players, which, Editor Cliff Bloodgood says, is about the annual average. That doesn't mean the players who hop in and out of the majors, but players with more or less substantial records in the big show.

For more than 20 years Bloodgood has been making the compilation of players' records practically a full-time job. By personal contact, by writing, and by devious methods he's made the book with its records of 240 players as nearly fool-proof as possible.

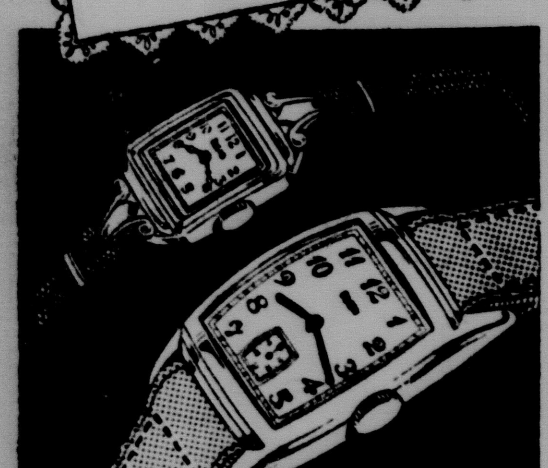

Omissions Are Hard To Make If you've ever been around a hotel where a major league club was stopping, and observed a chunky, brown-eyed, brown-clad fellow easing around until he has cornered some big kid you'll know it was Bloodgood trying to get the lowdown on where the boy was born, where he grew up, and why, and why he spent three years in the third grade.

"The toughest job," he says, "is when the day comes that you have to leave out some old-timer who has grown into a part of the game. For instance, Tony Lazzeri is out this year, and Rip Collins, and play, Cliff Logan will be shifted from guard to center, Coach Donald Davenport said last night.

Several other changes may be made in the lineup. Sanders, forward, and Gardner, guard, may shift positions, Davenport added.

Smiley and Sherman, Clinton's high scorers in their last encounter with Sedalia, are likely to find themselves bottled up this time. Tiger guards will be watching them as in the first game they accounted for 21 of Clinton's 31 points.

A junior high game will probably be arranged between Clinton and Sedalia, but it was not definite last night. Clarence Whitman will referee the senior high game.

Joe Stripp, and Ed Brandt, and Monte Stratton. Also Paul Dean and Wes Ferrell, although they should be in. I didn't know they'd be coming back.

"I left in Lou Gehrig, of course, and also Pie Traynor, largely through sentiment. And I put Frankie Frisch back, although he's not an active player."

Bloodgood says he has little trouble getting information, but particularly in cases where he gets it from the players, he has to double check. It seems the players have hot and cold running memories. They're like a kid who recalls the fun he had swiping the watermelons, but forgets the rock salt he was digging out of his hide for two weeks.

Bonura Got Indignant "They might tell you they hit .375 for Whistletop in 1932," he explains. "You check and find it true, but it was only for 10 games, and they hit .240 in 140 games for Atlantic Crossing the same year. It's a case of: 'Well, well, it completely slipped my mind.'"

Bloodgood doesn't have many complaints, although Zeke Bonura did write him an indignant letter when Cliff added a year to his age, as if that would affect Zeke's fielding.

"I had him born in 1908 instead of 1909," Bloodgood explains. Bloodgood weeps a little as he pulls out the old names, but he gets a kick out of including some newcomers who probably will stay for a long time. For instance, Ted Williams and Charley Keller are making their debut this year, and if they aren't 10-year men before they're through, well, you just can't count on tomorrow at all.

New St. Louis U. Football Coach

Wilfred J. (Dukes) Duford of St. Ambrose college, Davenport, Iowa, has been named head football coach at St. Louis University succeeding Cecil Muellerleile, who resigned. Duford's teams have suffered but one loss in their last 39 starts. His assistants at St. Ambrose—Bob Klenck and Don Geyer—also were named to the St. Louis coaching staff.

Football Star Dies Of Wound

PRYOR, Okla., Feb. 1.—(AP)—A post-midnight shooting in a Disney, Okla., street resulted yesterday in the death of Kenneth Lovell, 22, former Arkansas high school football star, and the filing of a murder charge.

Lovell died in a Pryor hospital of a pistol bullet wound in the abdomen. He was shot November 19.

County Attorney T. L. Martney filed a murder charge against Arthur ("Whitey") Lape, about 35. Martney said Lape previously had been charged with assault with intent to kill and a federal fugitive felon warrant was issued for him. He has not been found.

Lovell was an all-star fullback at Hot Springs in 1934-35. He later attended Duke University for a year and planned to study law.

H. and Lape were both workers on the Grand River Dam. The county attorney said he had learned no motive for the shooting. The body is being sent to Columbus, Miss.

Asserts McCoy Has A Break

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Ed Wieland considers Benny McCoy a good ball player but not worth the $65,000 in bonus and salaries he'll be paid within the next two years by the Philadelphia Athletics.

"McCoy just got a break and so did I," said the young pitcher who played with McCoy for Beaumont in the Texas league. Wieland, like McCoy, was granted free agency from Detroit by Commissioner K. M. Landis and now is under a contract to the Chicago White Sox.

"Ball players never had a break before," continued Wieland, a product of Chicago sandlots. "But the commissioner is doing his best for us now. If you don't believe that, ask McCoy."

New Trachoma Hospital Open

ROLLA, Mo., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Supt. J. E. Smith today opened the new state trachoma hospital second institution in the U. S. for exclusive treatment of the eye disease, with the forecast it might close a generation hence for lack of patients.

The two story, 65-bed hospital of brick and stone cost $136,000, furnishes gratis service and has a waiting list of 200.

Dr. Smith predicted that trachoma, an infectious disease that costs the state about $280,000 annually in blind pensions, can be wiped out in one generation with proper hospitalization and treatment.

"Missouri has just been holding its own in the treatment of trachoma during the past five years," Dr. Smith said, "but now expect to make fast progress toward cleaning out the disease."

Find Crooner In Fairly Fit Shape

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 1.—(AP)—When Bing Crosby went to a hospital for a physical checkup recently, George Joy, associated with the widespread Crosby interests, decided he'd go along too, just to see what the doctors could find.

Bing, fearing his appendix might have to come out, was pronounced fairly fit and has left the hospital. Joy is still there and Bing's brother and manager, Larry, says the medics are finding something new wrong with him by the hour.

Although Bing is going for one more examination Friday, Joy may have to part with his appendix, go on a strict diet to cure another ailment, and rest up to repair what the doctors say is a general run-down condition.

Barges In Grip Of An Ice Jam

HAYTI, Mo., Feb. 1.—(AP)—The Federal Barge Line boat "Illinois" and nine barges, all loaded, were held tight today in the north end of the Mississippi river ice jam which extends from Gayoso bend near here up the river approximately 23 miles.

The Illinois, according to the Federal Line offices at Cairo, Ill., was caught in the jam when ice forming at a landing just north of the upper end of the Gorge, broke the barge loose and it was jammed in the steadily increasing ice pack.

Members of the crew were uninjured, so far as could be learned here, and the Illinois and barges were not damaged.

LEMON PINEAPPLE PIE

3 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups canned pineapple juice
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
juice

Combine cornstarch, flour, sugar and salt and mix well. Add 1/2 cup pineapple juice and mix to smooth paste. Add remaining pineapple juice and cook until mixture begins to thicken, place over hot water, and cook until thick and smooth (15 minutes), stirring constantly.

Strain a small amount of mixture into beaten egg yolks, return to double boiler, and cook a few minutes longer. Add butter, lemon rind and juice, reserving 1 teaspoon juice for meringue. Cool and pour into baked pie shell. Beat egg whites stiff, beat in sugar gradually, add lemon juice.
Pipe lightly on filling. Bake in moderately slow oven (325° F.) 20 minutes, or until firm and delicately browned.

SPRY PIE SHELL

1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
Sift flour and salt together. Add 1/2 cup of Spry and cut in until mixture is as fine as cornmeal. (This makes the crust tender.)
Add remaining Spry and continue cutting until particles are size of a navy bean. (Makes crust so flaky.) Sprinkle water, 1 tablespoon at a time, over mixture. With a fork, work lightly together until a dough is formed. Roll dough 1/4-inch thick and prick with fork. Place dough in pie plate and let relax 5 minutes. Put wash ball of dough. Firm pastry

No Severe Weather In Sight

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 1.—(P)—The passing of January—the coldest first month in parts of Missouri in more than a century—doesn't mean the cold weather is over.
The mercury will tumble in most of the state tonight and tomorrow, but no severe temperature conditions are indicated, the weather man says.

Except in the southern part,
temperatures remained above freezing throughout the night in most of the other sections of the state.
Light rain, however, made many pavements slippery, and motoring was somewhat hazardous.

Arrest Writer Driving Taxi

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(P)— Triple charges of pre-dawn traffic violations against Adela Rogers St. Johns, the writer, were continued for a hearing Feb. 8 by Magistrate Frank Giorgino in Queens felony court today.

The magistrate postponed the case on presentation of a letter signed by Dr. John Martin Gibbons of Great Neck, Long Island, saying that he had examined Miss St. Johns and that she was "ill and confined to bed and not in physical condition to appear in court."

Miss St. Johns' bail of $700 was continued. She was charged with driving without an operator's license, passing "several" red lights and driving while intoxicated.

She was going at a merry clip, with another cab hard on her heels, when halted unceremoniously by the law.

Patrolman Harper Kitching, who arrested her, said this is what happened:

She got into a cab in Manhattan and told the driver, Benjamin Rosenfeld, she wanted to go "out to Long Island." They started out, but when Rosenfeld asked her where precisely she wanted to go she refused to give him a definite answer, so he pulled up to a curb in Long Island City and went into a store to telephone.

Adela got out of the cab, jumped behind the wheel of another, the motor of which was running,
and drove off just as the cab's driver, Francis D'Aiello, ran up.
The two drivers jumped into Rosenfeld's machine and away they sped in hot pursuit. Before they could catch her, however, Patrolman Kitching had ordered her to pull up to the curb and took her to a nearby police station.

The last time she was in the public prints was in May, 1937, when she and her party were involved in a free-for-all in front of a cabaret. Someone tweaked the doorman's mustachio to start the fireworks. One man suffered a fractured skull, and two others displayed black eyes and cut lips.
But everyone recovered, and charges of simple assault against Miss St. Johns and six other persons were dismissed.

Start Move To Boost Smith For Governor

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 1.—(P)— A group of Democrats including some from Kansas City and some from outstate have started a move looking toward the possible entry of former Mayor Bryce B.
Smith as a candidate for the party's gubernatorial nomination.

While not closing the door completely on the possibility, the recently resigned mayor indicated it was unlikely he would run when he was asked about the movement and replied:

"I had thought nothing of it,
and do not believe it will develop.
I am not a candidate. In fact I am very happy to be out of politics."

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By CORA ANTHONY
Director of A&P Kitchen

THE cold weather, snow storms and ice have affected the fruit and vegetable market as well as the egg supply.
Not only have crops been damaged, but roads have been blocked and produce greatly delayed reaching shipping points.
In most cases, however, prices rises have been slight and local supplies adequate to keep prices reasonable. Milder weather is shortly expected to return conditions to normal.

Citrus fruits and apples, mushrooms, onions, cauliflower and celery are good values. Pork and pork products are lower in anticipation of a nation-wide promotion in February. Veal is slightly higher and beef about the same. Poultry continues to be a very good value at reasonable price. The fish supply is uncertain, due to bad weather.

Mr. Grocer—What about this week-end

CAPON SPECIAL

MENTIONED BY MR. FARRIS? THAT SEEMS TO BE A REAL CONTRIBUTION TO SEDALIANS IN THE WAY OF POULTRY.

Yes, Mrs., we have them and they are pictures to behold. Those who have served them know them to be the TOP OF BAKERS. But we seldom have an opportunity to offer them to our trade. Ordinarily they are rather expensive, but Mr. Farris has made it possible for us to handle them at regular poultry prices. You can not go wrong on them. They are last spring's White Rock chickens and have been vaccinated, when young, from all poultry diseases.

The Following Grocers Have Them:

Spiced Baked Apples
(Serves 4 to 6)

Six tart apples, 3 teaspoons cinnamon, 1 tablespoon butter, 1/4 cup pulverized peppermint sticks.

Core apples but leave stem end intact. Sprinkle cinnamon in core hole. Fill with pulverized peppermint candy and dot with butter. Stand in pan with 1/4 cup fruit juice. Cook in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 30 minutes basting occasionally with the fruit juice.

To enjoy the convenience of a refrigerator in the bread making process, simply put the yeast dough into the refrigerator immediately after it has been mixed and kneaded, or after it has risen once and has been kneaded down. Keep the surface of refrigerator dough moist and elastic by greasing it and covering it well.

Paprika Spices Up Hungarian Recipes
BY MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer

Perhaps a little Hungarian cooking will give your April menus the needed fillip. The use of sour cream, butter and lard in thickening sauces, the creaming of vegetables, and, of course, the generous use of paprika are characteristically Hungarian.

Madame Rosa Green has compiled "A Hungarian-American Cook Book" in which she translates her Magyar recipes into available American ingredients. Look through its pages to freshen your menu imagination. Here are a few of its characteristically Hungarian vegetable dishes.

Hungarian Creamed String Beans
One pound string beans, washed and cut; 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 teaspoons flour, 1/2 cup sour cream, 2 tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice, 2 1/2 cups boiling water, 1 1/2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon sugar.

Boil beans in salted water. Melt butter, add flour and gradually add 1 1/2 cups water in which beans were boiled. Stir constantly. When thickened, add beans, vinegar and sugar. Cook 10 minutes longer. Remove from fire, pour over sour cream. Sprinkle top with paprika. Serve hot or cold.

Menu
BREAKFAST: Sliced bananas, dry cereal, French toast, jelly, coffee, milk.
LUNCHEON: Noodles and spinach, lettuce and tomato salad, frosted cookies, tea, milk.
DINNER: Salmon croquettes, French fried potatoes, milk cooked cabbage, watercress salad, orange tapioca cream, coffee, milk.

Milk Cooked Cabbage
(Serves 4 to 6)
One and one-half quarts shredded raw cabbage, 3 cups milk, 2 1/2 tablespoons flour, 2 1/2 tablespoons butter, 1/2 cup thin cream, salt and pepper.

Scald milk and cook cabbage in it for 10 minutes. Cream butter, work in flour and gradually work in cream. Add this mixture to cabbage, stir well and cook 5 minutes. Season with salt and pepper.

Noodles With Spinach
Two cups cooked noodles, 1/2 pound Swiss cheese, grated 2 cups cooked spinach, chopped, 1 cup milk, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, paprika. Place 1/2 of the noodles in the bottom of a buttered baking dish and cover with half the grated cheese. Make a sauce of the milk.

butter flour and seasonings, and mix with the spinach. Spread this evenly over noodle layer. Sprinkle remaining grated cheese on the spinach, put second half of noodles on top, and bake in a hot oven for 10 minutes, or until brown.

When refrigerator dough is to be baked, remove the desired amount of dough from the refrigerator, mold and let the rolls stand at room temperature for an hour or so, or until the rolls are light. Then bake as usual.

Contend Reds In Scores Of Illegal Acts

Unlike last year, when the Diet applauded wildly over plans for Japan's "new order" in East Asia, Arita's summary was met with dead silence.

Premier Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai declared the government was attempting to expedite enforcement of a planned economy in Manchoukou and China in accordance with the "new order."

Yonai, in his opening speech, called on the people to meet all contingencies as the government completed plans to rush nearly 1,000,000 tons of coal to power electricity generators and relieve a power famine which has crippled the nation's huge industrial machine. The power shortage is ascribed partly to a tie-up in coal transport because of wartime demands on shipping.

Foreign Policy Aims

Foreign Minister Arita outlined these general terms of Japanese foreign policy:

The United States:
Arita expressed hope that a new treaty could be concluded to end the day-to-day status of Japanese-American trade as a result of the United States' abrogation last Friday of the 1911 commercial treaty with Japan.

Third powers in China:
The foreign minister disavowed any Japanese intention to eliminate "legitimate rights and interests of the United States and other third powers."

Soviet Russia:
Arita said Japan would search for "concrete and practical solutions" to the main issues—primarily trade and boundaries—separating the two nations.

China:
Arita declared the new Central government with Wang, former Chinese premier now at odds with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, as premier would be established in the "near future."

Great Britain:
The foreign minister said Japan was doing her "utmost" to settle satisfactorily the incident of January 21 when a British warship took 21 German passengers off a Japanese liner.

Germany and Italy:
Relations with Germany and Italy "have grown increasingly cordial ever since the conclusion of the anti-comintern agreement," Arita declared, adding that Japan's "policy of defense against the comintern remains unaltered."

Hughes Speaks On High Court

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Disagreement over interpretation of the United States constitution was described by Chief Justice Hughes today as "a token of vitality."

He spoke on a program commemorating the first meeting of the supreme court 150 years ago, after Attorney General Robert H. Jackson asserted that "law must be reviewed and re-written in terms of current conditions if it is not to be a dead science."

The ceremony in the Supreme Court chamber was attended by members of the Senate and House judiciary committees and by a congressional committee appointed to arrange the celebration. Rep. Bloom (D-NY) was chairman.

Chief Justice Hughes said that sometimes the court faces questions of intense public interest, "dividing the opinion of lawyers as well as laymen."

"However serious the division of opinion," he added, "these cases must be decided. It should occasion no surprise that there should be acute differences of opinion on difficult questions of constitutional law when in every other field of human achievement, in art, theology, and even on the highest levels of scientific research, there are expert disputants."

"The more weighty the question, the more serious the debate, the more likely is the opportunity for honest and expert disagreement."

"This is a token of vitality. It is fortunate and not regrettable that the avenues of criticism are open to all whether they denounce or praise. This is a vital part of the Democratic process."

"The essential thing is that the independence, the fearlessness, the impartial thought and conscientious motive of those who decide should both exist and be recognized."

Barrymore And Estranged Wife Together At Cabaret

reconciliation with the dark-eyed actress who once pursued him across the continent; but Elaine went on rapturously:

"I cannot go on without you. I do not want you back for keeps. All I want is 24 hours of bliss. Look at me, John."

The great profile dutifully looked at Elaine, attractive in a low-cut, gold lame evening gown.

"This is not the gown I first wore this evening, John," she said. "I had on a white one. I looked like an angel. I wanted so much to have you see me in it. But at dinner one of my friends dropped gravy on it, so I went all the way home to change into this one."

Barrymore beamed. "You are like the breath of spring," he murmured.

Kissed By "Great Lover"

The great lover leaned over and kissed her. Later he announced: "My wife and I will take our leave. Pleasant dreams." And departed with the starry-eyed Elaine on his elbow.

But if the hearts-and-flowers motif played through Barrymore's reunion with his eager Ariel, at least one of his children, Diana Barrymore Blythe, sought to block reconciliation and repeatedly urged him, in effect, "Father, dear father, come home with me now."

Diana glared when Elaine strolled over to the Barrymore table and sat down.

"Well, well," was the great profile greeting. "This is like the gentle rain from heaven. Please, my little Ariel, join us. Have a seat."

Elaine spoke huskily: "John, John, only I can make you happy. Please let us have this night—this day, these 24 hours. I entreat you . . ."

When Barrymore made his first entrance in the play, he winched once or twice at a noisy guffawer in the gallery. Later, he gulped a long drink and declared he wished it were real. When one of the daughters said, "Father, I have to have some money," he confided to the audience, "of course, that is the loudest line in the play."

At the end of the play, when Barrymore came on stage to acknowledge the enthusiastic applause, a man in Hamlet costume, his face painted in the white and black mask of a clown, leaped across the footlights and began babbling to Barrymore about Shakespeare.

Barrymore took him by the neck and escorted him into the wings. The man, identified as an unemployed actor, was arrested on a disorderly conduct charge.

The critics were unanimous in their approval of Barrymore's work.

Nazis Claim A Patrol Destroyed

BERLIN, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Destruction of an enemy patrol on the western front was reported in the high command communique today.

It said: "Minor artillery fire in the west. A German reconnaissance squad January 30 destroyed an enemy patrol in the border region west of Saarlautern and returned without losses."

"The German air force continued its reconnaissance activity over Great Britain."

Into German Territory
PARIS, Feb. 1.—(AP)—French war reports said today that four patrols had penetrated deep into Germany yesterday, returning with prisoners and valuable information on German troop displacements.

Two of the patrols were said to have worked their way two miles into German territory between the frontier and the Saar river. The others operated in the Vosges district, the reports said.

Waters To Trial In Fraud Case

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Michael D. Waters, former city street cleaning commissioner, went to trial in circuit court today on charges of conspiracy to obtain money under false pretense by payroll padding.

Waters and E. Mont Reilly, Republican politician, were named jointly in two indictments returned by a county grand jury. Waters obtained a severance of his case for trial.

Waters is being tried on one of the two indictments, alleging the names of five persons were added to the payroll fraudulently and that they received a total of $80. Penalty for the offense, upon conviction, is a prison term of from two to five years.

Will Confer On Road Projects

Judges H. F. Fricke, Malcolm Scott and James K. Lacey, Jr., of the county court, W. B. Rissler, county clerk and Paul Graham, county engineer, went to Kansas City today with Ralph C. Mathewson, area director of WPA projects in Saline and Pettis counties. They went to see J. L. Craig, director of WPA road projects in the area, with reference to the Pettis county-wide road projects.

Finns Are Still For A Peace With Honor

of our rights has beaten in time with ours."

He closed with a prayer for Finland.

As the president spoke, a headquarters communique said Soviet Russia had attempted to revive her faltering campaigns in the Salala and Petsamo sectors—in the region extending from just above the Arctic circle to the corridor to the Arctic ocean—but her troops were driven back by the Finns.

Still Repulse Foe

HELSINKI, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Renewed Russian attacks in far northern Finland, both in the Salala and Petsamo districts, were driven back by the Finns, the Finnish high command reported today.

The Russians also were thrown back with heavy losses after making several attacks on an island held by the Finns on the northeastern shore of Lake Ladoga, the communique reported.

This Arctic fighting took place yesterday, the Finns stated. They reported "lively patrol activity" elsewhere on the eastern front.

The Russians killed "about a score of civilians" and wounded 40, the Finns said, in air raids yesterday on the "market town" of Rovaniemi.

The Finns reported that they shot down two Russian planes during the day.

The Finnish command insists that its forces are holding defense lines decided upon immediately after the Soviet Russian invasion started two months ago.

The declaration came from Hugo Osterman, commander of the army under Baron Gustaf Mannerheim, at his headquarters "somewhere in Finland"—accompanied by reports of a fierce Russian aerial smash at the nerve center of northern Finland's communications and of a Finnish victory over a Siberian ski battalion.

Bombing By Planes
Twenty-seven Red army planes, attacking in waves, were reported to have bombed Rovaniemi yesterday, leaving 15 dead and 60 wounded. Among the casualties, according to the Finnish report, were children and nurses. A hospital was said to have been shattered by bombs.

One hundred fifty bombs were reported dropped on Rovaniemi, railway and highway junction in the northern "waistline" part of Finland, in the two-hour attack.

The killing of 300 Siberian soldiers, who had emulated the ski tactics which the Finns themselves have found so effective, was told of in dispatches from Danish war correspondents.

The remainder of the 600-man battalion was said to have escaped. The location of the clash was not given.

Heavy fighting was reported still in progress northeast of Lake Ladoga, where Finnish observers said recapture of the Finnish town of Pitkanen permitted encirclement of Russian divisions out to flank the Mannerheim line on the Karelian isthmus.

(Last night's Russian communique, however, said yesterday was marked only by "activities of scouts" and Russian aerial reconnoitering.)

"The spirit of our troops remains wonderful," General Osterman said. "Every man fills his post without cringing. He knows what he is fighting for."

"We have the sympathy of the whole world in our struggle. But a little country like Finland always needs more men and more arms. Against steel we need steel. Against cruel bombing squadrons we must have more pursuit planes."

To Plan Safety Program Here

Harry Griffith, safety engineer with the Missouri State Highway Department, with other members of his department, will be guests of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce Tuesday, February 6, to assist in outlining a safety program for Sedalia.

Mr. Griffith is coming to Sedalia, on the invitation of the Chamber of Commerce, which is cooperating with the city administration in this safety program.

With Mr. Griffith will be Fred Hurd, traffic engineer and Sye Brisley, Jefferson City, and division engineer W. H. Burgwin and division safety engineer Glen Palmer of Kansas City.

The visitors will be guests of the Chamber of Commerce directors at noon and will meet with the Round Table of the Chamber of Commerce that night.

At Jefferson City, Governor Stark said he hoped landowners would give tenants "a little more time until the survey is complete and be as considerate as possible in order to permit the state employment service and other state and federal services to assist the sharecroppers."

Waltner Still Delays Action

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Circuit Judge Marion D. Waltner said today he would take "appropriate" action the "first of next week" against Gov. Lloyd C. Stark who he has threatened with citation for contempt of court.

The dispute arose over Judge

Poderjay Ends Term Today At Auburn Prison

Fate Of Wife Who Disappeared Is Still Unsolved

AUBURN, N. Y., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Dapper Captain Ivan Poderjay, shackled and wearing a smart tweed coat, emerged today from Auburn prison where he served five years for bigamous marriage to a bride who disappeared on her honeymoon.

The former Yugoslavian army officer held high his shackles as photographers met him at the big door of the jail's outer wall.

His hat cocked over one eye, he was taken to the Cayuga county jail by Sheriff Willard Wilcox and Under Sheriff Edward J. Ramsay where he will remain for three days to await deportation to Yugoslavia.

The captain, who lost his right eye in a fight with another prisoner two years ago, refused to answer questions concerning his missing bride, Agnes Colonia Tufversson, brilliant New York corporation lawyer.

Miss Tufversson, then, 43 years old, resigned her job in 1933 to marry Captain Poderjay, international bon vivant.

Asked about his future plans, the captain, who gave his age as 40, said he "didn't know what to do," and explained he was "physically unable" to take part in the European war.

Now "Degraded Captain"

At the county jail he asserted he was "not married now," listed his occupation as "retired army captain and inventor," and added: "now a degraded captain."

He proudly displayed a scarred and knitted by "my wife." He declined to explain more exactly to whom he referred.

The marriage took place in New York's Little Church Around the Corner and the obviously happy bride prepared for their European honeymoon.

Poderjay, at least, sailed. Agnes' sisters were mystified by her strange farewell telephone call the night of the sailing.

There was a cablegram from London, then silence.

The bride's sisters, worried, stirred the New York missing persons bureau into activity.

It was discovered that 9 months before his marriage to Miss Tufversson, Poderjay was married to a French blonde, Mlle. Suzanne Ferrand.

More than a year later the captain was found in Vienna, in company with Mlle. Ferrand.

Articles from Agnes' trousseau were found in his apartment, but it could not be established that she had ever left New York.

Poderjay said he could explain. His bride, he said, had gone to India. He admitted the cablegram from London was not from Agnes, but that he dispatched it. And that was all.

Is Moving Day For 'Croppers'

SIKESTON, Mo., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Today is the postponed moving date for southeast Missouri cotton country sharecroppers and farm tenants.

Gov. Lloyd C. Stark, following a conference in St. Louis early in January, asked farm owners not to force evictions and urged farm laborers not to move, as is customary on January 10, until the state employment service and a special committee had time to assemble information which he believed would be of help in working out a solution of farm laborers' economic problems.

Carl Wedeking, in charge of the district employment service office here, said today the survey ordered by the governor has not been completed.

"To date," he said "we have 600 families listed with no farm jobs for this year and we have 95 requests for farm labor." He said 164 of the families were tenant farmers, 190 sharecroppers and the remainder agricultural laborers. Only those who held jobs in southeast Missouri last year are counted.

Wedeking said he had heard some sharecroppers and farm laborers would be required to move today, "but I don't know," he continued, "where they are going."

There was no indication along highways 60 and 61 that another roadside demonstration, like that of last year, would be attempted. Leaders in the farm labor movement have urged, instead, that any dispossessed sharecroppers move to land bought in Butler county for their use by St. Louis sympathizers.

At Jefferson City, Governor Stark said he hoped landowners would give tenants "a little more time until the survey is complete and be as considerate as possible in order to permit the state employment service and other state and federal services to assist the sharecroppers."

Waltner Still Delays Action

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Circuit Judge Marion D. Waltner said today he would take "appropriate" action the "first of next week" against Gov. Lloyd C. Stark who he has threatened with citation for contempt of court.

The dispute arose over Judge

Waltner's action in dismissing four charges of neglect of official duty against County Prosecutor W. W. Graves. Two of the indictments were dismissed upon motion of the state.

Another Large Crowd Hears Timely Cooking Advice

dering hints stressing the best way to wash and dry knitted and crocheted woolens.

Mrs. Thurn made a gold sponge birthday cake and baked it in a ring mold, then added a boiled white icing. Cleverly demonstrating how to "pretty up" cake she used a "frog" in the center of the ring to hold flowers and arranged candles around the edge of the cake plate.

There were several inquiries back-stage afterwards about the chocolate crunch cookies that drew extensive applause. The recipe follows:

1 cup shortening
3/4 cup brown sugar
3/4 cup granulated sugar
2 eggs beaten whole
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon hot water
2 7-ounce bars dot chocolate
2 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped walnuts
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cut each small square of chocolate in four pieces. Cream salt, vanilla, sugars, and shortening, add beaten eggs. Dissolve soda in water and add with sifted flour. Add nuts and chocolate. Bake 10 to 12 minutes at 375 degrees. Makes 100 cookies. If batter seems too thick add a little more hot water.

Gift Receivers

Those who received gifts of merchandise including 10 sacks of groceries, foods prepared on the stage and the flowers decorating a table were:

Mrs. Fred Overfelt, 1807 South Carr avenue; Mrs. R. H. Robb, 1621 South Ohio avenue; Mrs. Paul Burke, 235 South Missouri avenue; Mrs. E. N. Draffen, 209 East Jackson; Miss Kathryn Courtney, 724 West Sixth street; Mrs. Jerry Sullivan, 1004 East Sixteenth street; Mrs. Flora Fox, 321 West Tenth street; Mrs. H. G. Eschbacher, 124 South Stewart avenue; Mrs. B. F. Whelan, 227 South Quincy avenue; Mrs. Tom Ware, 915 Crescent Boulevard; Mrs. H. A. Hite, Green Ridge; Mrs. F. W. Tuttle, 610 West Fourth street; Mrs. Mary Palmer, cateress at the Sedalia Country Club; Mrs. H. R. Kettle, 713 East Fifteenth street; Mrs. J. Russell Sharpe, 503 South Grand avenue; Mrs. E. McVey, 641 East Tenth street.

Mrs. Charles Carlin, whose birthday anniversary was yesterday, was given the birthday cake.

Irregular Trend On Stock Market

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The stock market pointed this way and that today and ended with indifferent nods in varying directions.

It was the seventh consecutive session in which the list, on average, has been unable to climb out of the rut.

A few rubbers, coppers, aircrafts, rails and specialties managed to tack on modest advances at one time or another, but most steels, motors, mail orders and utilities lingered in minus territory the greater part of the day.

Dealings were inconsequential throughout and slight declines and gains were well scattered at the close. Transfers were less than 500,000 shares.

News of the European war, politics and business were uninspiring marketwise, brokers said. The domestic copper price was shaded by producers. Goodrich raised some tire prices and a further drop in steel mill operations was indicated.

Deny Intent For War In Balkans

BERLIN, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop in an interview prepared for publication tomorrow declares that neither Germany nor Soviet Russia has any intention of carrying the war into the Balkans.

Both nations, Ribbentrop says, are bending every effort to spare that section of Europe the horror of war and are actively at work to establish a stable peace in the Balkans.

Report Thefts To Police

Thieves made the rounds in Sedalia Wednesday night or early this morning when they broke into three business houses, the Mertz Drug Store on South Ohio avenue, the Conoco filling station, Sixth street and Osage, and "Bunny's" Place on East Main street.

The drug store was entered by breaking a basement window. Three cartons of cigarettes were reported missing and fifty cents in pennies.

At the Conoco station a window was broken and entrance gained. Nothing was found to be missing.

A window was broken at "Bunny's" Place and a music box broken into. A small amount of money in the cash box was stolen and some sales tax money stolen which had been put into the music box.

UMW Rejects Relief Plan

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 1.—(AP)—The United Mine Workers rejected today proposed establishment of special relief funds for miners deprived of employment in a suspension of work during contract negotiations.

Several delegates complained that hundreds of miners' families were practically destitute in the bituminous coal shutdown last spring.

Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer, said the international union advanced $350,000 to the districts for relief in the shutdown. It was recorded as a loan—he added, because of legal requirements.

Kennedy asserted because of the assistance provided in certain states through the unemployment insurance benefits and poor relief, it would be impossible for the U. M. W. to set up a uniform system of shutdown benefits. Such a system, he added, might require assessments of $25 per miner instead of the $2 suggested by a delegate.

The convention voted down a proposal to accept transfer cards from all CIO international unions. Delegate John G. Harris of Daeytown, Pa., complained that steel workers going to work in the mines had to pay a $10 UMW initiation fee which he said would be eliminated by a transfer account.

Delegates are expected to select Washington, D. C., for the 1942 convention.

Efforts to curb the powers of the executive committee officers found little support.

Drop Seven On Staff Of WPA

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Seven more members of the district WPA staff were dismissed today bringing the total to more than 30.

Howard Williams, acting district director, said there were "no political implications in the dismissals" and that the seven were "not necessary to the operation of the projects."

Two supervising timekeepers, four foremen and a junior clerk were dropped.

Fare Better In High Court

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—J. Warren Madden, chairman of the Labor Board told congressional investigators today that the board seemed to have fared better before the Supreme Court than any other government agency.

Testifying the second day in the House investigation of the Wagner Act and the board which administers it, Madden testified that the supreme tribunal had handed down 22 final decisions concerning the board. In 18, he said, the board's position had been sustained completely; in two it had been modified; and in two others overruled.

Madden compared this with the Interstate Commerce Commission's record during its first ten years of Supreme Court litigation, 1892-1901, when he said all ten of the cases involving ICC orders which reached the Supreme Court were set aside.

Chairman Smith (D-Va.) of the investigating committee laughed: "There has been some change in the personnel of the court since that time."

Fruit Juices Won't Produce Miracles Although they Contain Some Vitamins

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

In some sections of the country, addiction to fruit and vegetable juices has grown apace. There is, of course, a definite place in the diet for fruits and vegetables and also for fruit and vegetable juices, but there is no magic in tomato juice, pineapple, orange or grape juice. There is no mystery about cider, grapefruit, pineapple, orange, apple and there is less even to cause excitement about sauerkraut juice, celery juice or the fluids derived from squeezing other vegetables.

One reason why fruit and vegetable juices are so popular is the fact that we now eat much less carbohydrate food for energy than we used to eat. We do not use our muscles for walking or for heavy lifting. Therefore, there is a tendency to depend on fruit and vegetable juices than on the cereals and bread.

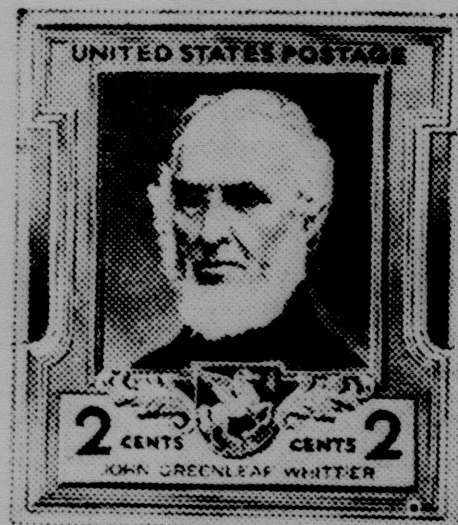

Among the fruit juices, grapefruit, pineapple, orange, apple and grape are the leaders, but lemon, lime, tangerine, loganberry, apricot, peach, plum, pomegranate, currant, pear and other juices are also available, and there are techniques for making nectarine, strawberry and blueberry juices.

Among the vegetable juices, tomato and sauerkraut juice lead the field, but there is also some market for celery, spinach, carrot, garlic, onion, beet and lettuce juice.

The chief factors in any good substance are proteins, carbohydrates, fats, mineral salts, water and roughage. One value of the fruit juices lies in their sugar content. Grape juice will yield from 16 to 17 per cent of sugar; orange juice 8 to 14 per cent; pineapple 7 to 10 per cent, and apples, 8 to 12 per cent. Most fruit juices are low in protein and in fat.

The fruit juices are unlikely to contain large amounts of vitamin A because this is a fat soluble vitamin. However, the sub-

Stories in Stamps

WILLIAM A. ROACH, designer of the authors group of the U. S. Famous Americans series, also designed the poet's stamp, second set of five in the issue. The John Greenleaf Whittier 2-cent, red value, will be released at the poet's birthplace, Haverhill, Mass., on Feb. 16.

Almost every American is familiar with Whittier's "Barbara Frietie" and "The Barefoot Boy." Many of his verses have been set to music as hymns. Whittier's Quaker parents started him out as a shoemaker, but he quit that trade early to write. His life spanned most of the 19th century, from 1807 to 1892.

Lithuania will issue a new series of stamps to commemorate the restoration of Vilna, returned to Lithuania by Russia after the partition of Poland. The new series will displace the overprints currently in use.

The Postoffice Department has been asked to consider issuance of a stamp, for release in December, 1941, to commemorate the 125th anniversary of the admission of Indiana to the Union.

Raising a Family

By Olive Roberts Barton

Do children make more mistakes through (a) Carelessness? (b) Inattention? (c) Impetuous impulse? (d) Not quite clearly understanding just what is expected?

I'm going to divide all Gaul today into three parts and make (a) (b) and (c) into equal provinces.

I think that every parent knows what pitfalls all of them are. But there have been times, in my observation of children, when I know perfectly where the exact trouble lay, and that was due to the fact that they were in a fog. Jean has been given a few of her cousin's clothes. She knows that the playmates, acquainted with every stitch she wears, won't be as tactful as they might. Besides, the velvet dress, the fur cap to match the collar, and four new sweaters with tiny darns, are not quite consistent with her wardrobe.

"I just wouldn't say much about your clothes," warns mother. "They look nice and the children won't notice."

So after a day or two of silence, Jean says suddenly, "Look, kids, I got these in a box from Aunt Mary. My cousin is rich and never wears her clothes long."

Mrs. Jones comes bustling over and says, "I wish my Hattie had a cousin like your Jean. Aren't you lucky?" So Jean's mother tells Jean that she had orders not to talk. And someday she'll have some sense and know how to put people off. "But you said not to say much. I didn't say much. I never spoke a word about the underwear or muff or pajamas."

Anyway it's a hard spot for children to be in. They do not know how to evade or divert attention. They do the best they can, and, of course make mistakes.

Billy lends his brand new bike to Rog, who instantly smashes it. "Oh, why did you do such a thing as to lend your wheel," wails mother, "when the paint was scarcely dry on it?"

Says Billy, "But, mom, you told me to be generous with my toys."

So she did, she realizes. But if she had taken the boy aside and explained that she would like him to avoid repair bills for a while, and not permit a jealous, irresponsible bully like Rog to wreck it, Billy would have understood.

He merely needed specific directions. Lacking them, he had to trust to his own judgment.

"You offended Mrs. White by not speaking."

There it is again. Tell him to speak to anyone he knows, first. It goes on and on. Children do not need to be told everything that's true, but obedience and avoidance of accidents are often the result of direct explaining. Vagueness leads to confusion and mistakes.

Takes A Rap At 'Medical Quacks'

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Dr. Walter Clarke, executive secretary of the American social hygiene association said today that "medical quacks and charlatans" were "cashing in" on publicity, fear and ignorance regarding social diseases.

In an address prepared for delivery before the 27th annual meeting of the association, he said a recent survey by the association's legal staff indicated that quackery and self-treatment are more prevalent than they were five years ago.

"Some unscrupulous druggists," he told the delegates, "assume the role of a licensed physician and prescribe and treat customers behind the drug counter in violation of the law or of pharmacists' standards of ethics."

General John J. Pershing will be awarded the William Freeman Snow Medal for distinguished service to humanity at a dinner
